THEME FOR THE THIRTY-FIRST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME: The prophet denounces those priests who in their pride have turned away from the Law, causing others to go astray. ## Reflection Thirty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time

A man was surprised to read the announcement of his death in the obituary column of the local newspaper. Ringing up his close friend, he inquired, "Did you see the announcement of my death in the paper this morning?" "Yes," was the frightening answer in a shivering voice. "But from where are you speaking? Heaven or Hell?"

This weekend I would like to reflect on the two big celebrations during the month of November: The Solemnity of All Saints and the Commemoration of All Souls. Although Halloween (All Hallows Eve) is not a Christian feast when children dress in different forms, they try to capture the past and the present heroes whose lives speak to them. Since this makes meaning to them, we can lead them from what they know to what they need to know.

Every year on the first day of November the Church recalls the example, witness, and prayer of the holy women and men who have lived through the imperfection and the ambiguities of earthly life but are now at peace with God. We call them the Saints. These Saints are more than role models for us. They are family members, friends, colleagues, and neighbors with whom we continue to share relationships in a bond of prayer and spiritual exchange. When we celebrate them, their memories continuously touch, inspire, and enrich our lives. Saints are all around us. They are the multitude of women and men, from every race, language, and nation whose lives reflect the Gospel call to love.

Existentially, a lot of people begin to live their sainthood by showing extraordinary courage in their response to the realities of life. It could be sickness, adversity, betrayal, or caring for aging parents or special children. Others begin to live their sainthood by working for justice, peace, and the preservation of human life.

In the Beatitudes, Jesus equates holiness to being poor in spirit, meek, mourning, hungering for righteousness, being merciful, and being clean of heart. "Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the Kingdom of God" (Mathew 5:2 NAB). Interestingly, Jesus did not equate holiness to the compulsive observation of precepts or self-righteousness. No one can make oneself a saint; only God perfects us in our imperfection, and he invites us to look up to him in a poverty of spirit. We also celebrate the commemoration of all souls this month. The remembrance of all souls is a source of consolation for each of us. It allows us to feel ever close to those who have died. It gives us much hope in moments of despair and sadness. We sometimes think of them as arriving in Purgatory (teaching that many people misunderstand). The idea of Purgatory means that these souls are already within reach of eternal life in the loving arms of Jesus. They await the final purification by God since nothing imperfect can be admitted in heaven. Our prayers for the faithful departed increase faith and love within us. They draw us to look upon the Son with ever greater longing. In this month of November, the church militant (Church on Earth) enters a spiritual conversation with the church triumphant (All Saints) and the church suffering (All Souls). God is good all the time!

DIOCESAN INFORMATION

“Death is a decisive moment in the human person’s encounter with God the Savior. Helping the Christian to experience this moment with spiritual assistance is a supreme act of charity. It encompasses the patient with the solid support of human relationships to accompany them and open them to hope. Palliative care and hospice are precious and crucial instruments in the care of patients with serious and complex chronic or terminal illnesses, and they help provide comfort to both the patients and their families.”

Purchase SPPCS "Scrip Cards" for your shopping and gift giving needs!

Scrip cards make great gifts and in addition, consider purchasing "scrip cards" to use in place of cash, checks or credit cards for purchases you make.

How does that help St. Augustine families? Each SPPS student family is required to earn $250 each year in fund raising. Plus, each student must pay $400 registration and book fees. Then the tuition begins. At the end of each month the rebates from scrip sales are tabulated and applied to the family's account. You may designate a particular family or St. Augustine students as a group in which case it will be equally divided. Please consider trying this program and perhaps add an item each month to help our parish support the SPPS/St Aug. families with absolutely no cost to you.

St. Augustine's contact for the Scrip Program is Angi Kern. You may reach her at 618/973-7580 (call or text) or email her at 51014wedding@gmail.com.
